

Beware Hun Press Agent Who Paints Russ Anarchy

Charles Edward Russell Declares Muscovite Republic Must Have American Help If It Is to Continue in the War.

Written expressly for The Washington Herald by CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.
Member of our staff who spent three months in Russia with the official American Commission.

The greatest engine of German strategy in this country today is its press agency, which continues to work as industriously and extensively as when Von Bernstorff was in charge of it.

One of the great points that Germany is playing for now is to prevent the United States from advancing any more money to Russia. This may mean that Russia can be detached from the rest of the allies, if she can be convinced that the United States will not help her.

German Purpose Exposed.
Therefore German agencies in the United States and in Petrograd have long been industriously trying to create and push along the belief here that Russia is given over to anarchy, disorder and confusion, and is bankrupt.

They have played this so adroitly that they have convinced most newspaper editors and millions of newspaper readers that it is the fact. The foundation has been so carefully laid that now whenever anything happens in Russia it is construed and interpreted by our newspapers from just this point of view.

There was a striking illustration of this when the recent statement of Prime Minister Kerensky about Russia and the war was distributed.

Kerensky said that Russia had borne a very heavy burden, unaided, from the beginning of the war, and that she must have help.

Instantly hundreds of journals in America leaped to the conclusion that Kerensky had given notice that Russia was about to quit the fight.

Here are some of the headlines I saw in American newspapers over the Kerensky statement:

America First and Last.
All the foreigners within our boundaries are here by their own initiative; they have chosen to live in the United States. While they are here they should conform to our national life; they should obey our national laws; they should be loyal to our country.

The Y. M. C. A.'s Army Work.
It is a source of wonder that the Y. M. C. A. workers can devote so many forms of wholesome entertainment as they do. There is comparatively little preaching in the crowded Y. M. C. A. tents, but there is a wholesome atmosphere there always, and men who never went to church acknowledge their debt to their Christian hosts. On week-day evenings there is much singing of popular stuff and the old and the new patriotic melodies; on Sunday evenings the patriotic hymns, of course, on Sunday evenings, yet such as a young man of any religious belief is sure to find interesting and morally profitable.

On any night in the week it is a comfortable weary young soldier who is under his blankets at taps. Through the day he has done a man's normal amount of active work, and has surely had an evening of pleasure suited to his individual temperament if he can be satisfied with simple, wholesome enjoyment.

German Singer Resigns.
New York, Nov. 10.—Margarete Ober, the German contralto, will not sing at the Metropolitan Opera this season. Her place will be taken by Louise Homer, the American singer. It was learned today.

A New York man recently paid $1.75 for a faucet for his kitchen sink and $1.75 for the labor required to attach it.

U. S. Spokesmen in Big War Meeting

U. S. Spokesmen in Big War Meeting

"Russia Gives Up."
"Russia Out of the War."
"Russia Abandons Her Allies."
"Russia, Sick of Fighting, Will Make a Peace."
"Allies Must Fight Without Russia."
"Russia in Complete Collapse, Kerensky Says."
"No More Fight From Russia."
"Not one of these had the slightest foundation in fact."
"All Kerensky was doing was to state Russia's need for help. He never in one syllable intimated that Russia would stop fighting."
"Yet there were the headlines to the contrary."
"You can't blame the editors, either. They have been so fed up with stuff about anarchy and ruin in Russia, about chaos and disorder, about the terrible Bolsheviks, and the raving, roaring Maximilians (neither term having the slightest definite meaning to the average American), that they are perfectly sure, no matter what happens in Russia it must be something bad."

Russia Must Get Help.
These things furnish the basis on which the pro-Germans in Congress will work to prevent further advances to Russia. They help to keep down the price of the trouble. They destroy all confidence here in Russia and the Russian experiment.

They go back to Russia and confirm the Russian mind in the belief, adroitly created and fostered by German agents there, that the United States is hostile to Russia and the new Russian democracy.

We should have no misunderstanding about this matter.

If Russia is to fight, the first requirement is that the United States shall help her, not alone with money and supplies, but with sympathy, good will, and encouragement.

Instead of sympathy we are handing her the swift kick in the face. We shouldn't make it impossible for Russia to fight, and then roar at her because she doesn't.

MASONS PLAN RALLY TO AID WAR WORK
Members of Order to Gather Here November 24.

The executives of the York and Scottish Rite bodies of Masons have approved of the program of J. W. Wilton, grand master of Masons, for a rally to be held in Convention Hall, Saturday, November 24, at 8 o'clock. The purpose of the rally is to devise plans for the participation of the order in religious and recreational work at the various army camps.

The Masters' Association, to which was assigned the task of making arrangements, held an enthusiastic meeting last night at the temple.

Secretary of War Baker has accepted an invitation to address the meeting, which marks the commencement in this city of the co-operation requested by him from the fraternities.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels has promised to attend, if possible, and address the meeting. Further plans for the work will be considered by the Masters' Association, which has received assurance of hearty co-operation from the members of the Eastern Star and the various clubs of Masons in the different departments.

Owing to a shortage of white paper in Hungary it is doubtful whether the newspapers can continue to appear. The Hungarians are using the scraps of deliberately delaying the transport of paper in order to compel Hungary to send more foodstuffs to Austria.

TO COMPLETE DRAFT

We must make a complete inventory of the qualifications of all registrants in order to determine, as to each man not already selected for duty with the colors, the place in the military, industrial, or agricultural ranks of the nation in which his experience and training can best be made to serve the common good. This project involves an inquiry by the selection boards into the domestic, industrial and educational qualifications of nearly 10,000,000 men.

Scope of the Work.
"Members of these boards have rendered a conspicuous service. The work was done without regard to personal convenience and under a pressure of immediate necessity which imposed great sacrifices. Yet the services of men trained by the experience of the first draft must of necessity be retained and the selection boards must provide the direct mechanism for the new classification. The thing they have done is of scarcely one-tenth the magnitude of the thing that remains to be done. It is of great importance both to our military and to our economic interests that the classification be carried out as accurately as possible. An estimate of the time necessary for the work leads to the conclusion that it can be accomplished in sixty days; but only if this great marshalling of our resources of men is regarded by all as a national war undertaking of such significance as to challenge the attention and compel the assistance of every American."

"I call upon all citizens, therefore, to assist local and district boards by offering such service and such material conveniences as they can offer, and by appearing before the boards, either upon summons or upon their own initiative, to give such information as will be useful in classifying registrants. I urge men of the legal profession to offer themselves as associate members of the legal advisory boards to be provided in each community for the purpose of advising registrants of their rights and obligations and of assisting them in the preparation of their answers to the questions which all men are subject to draft are required to submit."

Seeks Doctor's Aid.
"I ask the doctors of the country to identify themselves with the medical advisory boards which are to be constituted in the various districts throughout the United States for the purpose of making a systematic physical examination of the registrants. It is important also that police officials of every grade and class should be informed of their duty under the selective service law and regulations, to search for persons who do not respond promptly and to serve the summons of local and district boards. Newspapers can be of very great assistance in giving wide publicity to the requirements of the law and regulations and to the names and names of those who are called to present themselves to their local boards from day to day."

"Finally, I ask that during the time hereafter to be specified as making the sixty-day period of the classification, all citizens give attention to the task in hand in order that the process may proceed to a conclusion with swiftness and yet with even and considerate justice to all."

Concerning the workings of the new system, Provost Marshal General

Crowder's office yesterday gave out the following statement:
"The questionnaire which is the basis of the new system is a collection of questions bringing out the essential facts upon which all classifications are made. It is the only printed form which any registrant needs to use either in making claims or filing proof. At first sight, it may seem a little formidable but a reading of the questions shows that they are simple enough for any person who can read and write understandingly to answer. Questionnaires are to be mailed by the local board to five per cent of the registrants each day. The principal work of the legal advisory boards will thus be over in twenty days, by which time all the questionnaires should be returned to the boards. Every man has seven days in which to return his questionnaire fully made out. The process of classification will begin about December 15th. Eight days later the boards will begin the great process of classification which becomes, in the words of the President, a national war undertaking of such significance as to challenge the attention and compel the assistance of every American."

Shipbuilders Exempt.
One thing certain as a result of yesterday's announcement is that there will be no second draft until after the middle of January. The sixty-day period of reorganization will not have expired until then and there will be no second call until the new lists are complete.

One class of men not exempted in the present draft except in certain cases is assured of exemption under the reclassification. They are the nation's merchant shipbuilders. It was practically decided at a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the War and Navy Departments and Shipping Board to exempt all men working on the construction of merchant ships. Work on naval vessels is entirely exempt.

It has been found that in the majority of the essential industries for percentage of men who have no other claim for exemption than their industrial value is small. In the last draft some men without other claims were drafted from shipyards. Yesterday's conference was to guard against a repetition of this situation in the second draft.

PRESIDENT'S CHECK AIDS CAMP WELFARE
"Three Dollars for Each Man" Is Slogan for Recreation Fund.
A check from President Wilson among the remittances received yesterday for the War Camp Community Recreation Fund.

"Three dollars for each soldier and sailor" is the slogan of the campaign to provide a national fund of $2,500,000 with which to carry on the extensive work of outside-camp welfare.

The big drive was made in the last week throughout the United States. In some places joint campaigns will be conducted with the Y. M. C. A. this week, and in still others the Community Fund campaign will follow that of the Y. M. C. A. At least one-third of the total fund was contributed up to last night, it is estimated.
